Topic #1: In reviewing your high school years, what advice would you give to someone beginning their high school career?

Looking back on what was supposed to be the best four years of my life there are a number of instances that influenced me, some good, while others not so good. Going into high school I had no idea of how the next four years would be or how they would affect my life.

When you're in middle school everyone tells you how tough high school will be. I didn't listen and I know a lot of my peers didn't either. As teenagers, how many of us actually listened to the wisdom of those older than us? Not many. I believe my advice to current and future high school students will help them and give them some insight from someone who has been through it recently.

My advice to them would be this: do not go along with the status quo. I say this because as youths we are constantly worried about what others think of us. This hampers our ability for self-growth and the forming of our own identities. Also, when our brains are occupied with clothes, who we can hang out with, and how we will be seen, we have no room to focus on what is really important, our education.

Education is always important, but I feel it is especially important in high school because it sets the tone for college. It is true that the habits you form now will become your habits in college. As Mahatma Gandhi said "Your beliefs become your thoughts, Your thoughts become your words, Your words become your actions, Your actions become your habits, Your habits become your values, Your values become your destiny." And I hope that every high school student will focus on their education, take advantage of the opportunities available to them and use them to prosper in college and beyond.

LETTER OF RECOMMENDATION

Dear CSBG Scholarship Committee,

I am writing this letter to recommend Sofia Smith for the CSBG Scholarship Program. I was Sofia's Accounting instructor last year and have known her for the past two years.

As a student, Sofia demonstrated a love for learning and commitment necessary to succeed at a college level and beyond. I have great respect for her and truly believe that she is a deserving candidate that you will be proud to have representing your organization.

Sofia is one of the most respectful, friendly and hardworking students I have ever met. In addition to having firsthand knowledge of her academic commitment, I am also familiar with her educational goals, as well as the challenges she will face when it comes to funding her education. I cannot think of anyone more deserving and I wholeheartedly recommend her for this scholarship.

If you have any questions or need additional information, please feel free to call me at (773) 455-0000.

Sincerely,
